You will notice that your exam voucher has been assigned to your account. When you are ready to take the exam, log in to your account, and click the Launch Exam button located next to your voucher code.

If you want to unassign the voucher code from your account, click Unassign.

Step 4: The moment you launch your exam, you are asked to read and accept the Exam Policies. Click Proceed to continue.
Note that if your Test Candidate profile is not active, you will now need to complete it with the following information: full name, date of birth, address, gender.

Step 5: You will see a screen with your Test Candidate details. Click Begin session to start your exam.

Good luck!
FAQ

1. I want to choose the Spanish version of the exam. Where can I find the option to change the language of the exam?

Some exams are available in different language versions. Select the language version from the drop-down list before beginning your exam.

3. I can’t find my “Certify” tab and I’m not able to assign my exam voucher. What can I do?

If the Certify tab is not available in your account, please switch from the Learner account to the Test Candidate account.

4. My voucher is not working. Why?

It’s possible that you are entering your exam voucher in the wrong field. Please make sure that you are trying to assign your exam voucher in the Certify tab.
If you can see the error message “This voucher code can be used to schedule an exam at Pearson VUE”, this means that you need to use your exam voucher to schedule the exam either here (Python Institute exams) https://home.pearsonvue.com/python or here (C++ Institute exams) https://home.pearsonvue.com/cppinstitute.

If you can see the error message “The voucher has already been used or expired”, please check your voucher’s validity (you can find this information in the email you received from our store) and make sure that you haven’t already assigned this voucher to your account or used it.

Note: Please remember to familiarize yourself with the Testing Policies prior to launching the exam session to make sure that you follow the technical requirements and the Code of Honor.
